From Knowing to Doing

For years, classroom training has been the method of choice for influencing safe employee behaviors. Unfortunately it has become abundantly clear that there is a huge difference between what people learn in the classroom and what they do with what they've learned. While information certainly has value, its impact is influenced not only by the strength of the content, but also by how the content is developed, packaged, delivered and supported. This fun, high energy program takes a critical and humorous look at training and offers insights and strategies for training that not only influence what participants know, but also what they do.

Batteries Not Included

"Batteries Not Included" is the first approach designed to help you create an environment that insures a return-on-investment for your programs.

What makes "Batteries Not Included" different from everything else on the market? It is the first program that goes beyond "content" and focuses on the environment in which the program is being delivered. It is well known that great content that falls on deaf ears is headed for the program graveyard. Rather than trying in vain to find the best NEXT program, "Batteries Not Included" helps you create an environment that will improve the success of any program you put in place. It will even help you rejuvenate programs that have had limited success. That's why we call it "THE PROGRAM REPAIR KIT!"
